Last week, Westside Baptist Church hosted a basketball clinic at five different apartment complexes. Each night Pastor Ben would set up the portable basketball goal and teach the kids about how the game of basketball is like the game of life.

After doing some drills with the kids and giving away some balls, he would preach and share Jesus with everyone. Just after the prayer, all the kids got up and ran to get water. I stayed seated in the folding chair and watched the kids bounce their new balls. They were SO happy! Then one little girl with pigtails sits down beside me and out of no where begins telling me her story.

“My Daddy was in jail because he was driving without a license.” She says on the verge of tears.

“I’m so sorry to hear that. Is he home now?”

“Yes, but we spent all our money and now we don’t have much left.” She blinks and tears roll down her cheeks.

“Can I pray with you? What’s your name?” I ask.

She nods her head. “Evelyn.”

I put my arm around her and hug her close. “Lord, I lift up sweet Evelyn to You right now. Please put a shield of protection around her and her family. Please give her strength and courage. Bless her family and allow this whole situation to work out according to Your will. AMEN.”

Evelyn sniffs and wipes her eyes with the backs of her hands. “Did you trust in Jesus tonight, Evelyn?”

She nods her head yes. “Do you understand what that means?” I pull out a children’s track and we go through the pages together learning about the Bible and having faith in God.

“Thank you. I feel...” She sighs relieved. “ Better.”

“You’re SO welcome sweet girl! Now let’s go win you a basketball!”

What an incredible feeling to be able to lead little nine-year- old Evelyn to the Lord. That’s what this missions thing is all about!
