

Outreach Update March 2012

Hello, my friends!

The tables at the mission were crowded with kids as we plowed through that day's homework. Suddenly, Sanjida looked over to me and told me, "I have a new name, Mr. Tim." You don't hear that every day!

"Really? What is it?" I asked incredulously.

"Sajasthaan."

"Huh. Who calls you that?"

"My mom."

"Why are you changing your name?"

"I want a name from the Koran," she explained.

"What does it mean?" Normally every name has a meaning.

"I don't know. But I know it's from the Koran."

"Ever heard the name Isa?"

"No."

"It's another name in the Koran. It's who I work for. Christians call him Jesus. Did you know that the Bible is a holy book for Muslims?"

"No."

"Your prophet Mohammed said that Muslims should study the Bible too. My name is in the Bible. Timothy means 'One who honors God.' That's pretty cool, eh?"

"Yeah. That's cool."

"Do you mind if I keep calling you Sanjida?"

"No. That's ok. Now what about this question?" She pointed to the next item in her homework.

Our God is the God of timing. He gives us opportunities to share love and caring with people. Sometimes it's as easy as holding a door open for someone, or letting someone into your lane of traffic. Other times He gives you the chance to tell someone about Jesus.

Even though my little friend Sanjida is Muslim, she wasn't upset with me when I talked about Jesus. In fact, most Muslims really know very little about their religion. They are Muslim because their parents are Muslim, their grandparents were Muslim and most of their friends are Muslim.

Satan has convinced most Christians that people don't want to know about Jesus and will be upset with you if you say anything that sounds remotely religious. That's really not true! In fact, the next time you hear something that sounds like a prayer request, PRAY with them. I think you'll be amazed at the powerful result in your relationship with that person.

People have asked me, "Why are you called Whirlwind Missions?" In Nahum 1:3 the prophet said, "In whirlwind and storm is his way." I've never led anyone to Jesus when everything was going great. They had to feel a need for a Savior. They had to be saved from something, not just hell.

Love on people in the name of Jesus. You'll be glad you did!

THANKS for your support!! Love you! Tim & Kathy
