Hello, my friends!

“When are the teams coming, Mr. Tim? WHEN?” I hear this refrain nearly every day. Our kids at the missions LOVE the teams!

We are so blessed to have teams that travel days to come help us “Take the Church, to the People!” This week was awesome! We had a terrific team all the way from First Baptist Church Arlington, Texas come and help us in our missions.

Every morning over thirty of these gifted young people worked on our mission at Pearl Lane apartments. They scrubbed every inch of the apartment and then gave it a completely fresh coat of paint. It is such a cheerful environment for them now. When the kids see how beautiful the mission is, they feel better about themselves. Someone cares about them. We’ve had problems with water leaking into the building when it rains hard. They also dug out the problem area, cleaned the wall and redid the concrete! No more flooding in the mission! What a blessing!

The service projects were only a small part of what they did. They worked in six of our missions in Chamblee and Doraville. The team greeted the children as they got off the school bus and had a fun recreation time with them. Just simple things like bouncing a ball with a kid can make them so happy!

They also shared a craft and Bible story with the children. It was wonderful to see these kids, many of them coming from another religion, listening to with rapt attention to how Jesus fed the 5,000 people with just a single loaf of bread.

And to watch them bow their heads and pray, many of them for the first time, well, it’s a very special experience for me. The kids at the mission become “my” children. I am the de facto father figure of many of them. Of course I’m concerned for their spiritual well being. It breaks my heart when they tell me they’re going to “Mosque school.”

This weekend we’ll have a massive outreach at our mission to celebrate Easter. We’ll cook hot dogs, hunt Easter Eggs and share what the real story of Easter is all about! The teams are such a BLESSING. And though you may only read these newsletters and pray for us, believe me that makes YOU a part of the TEAM too! THANKS!!
