Hello, my friends!

CHRISTMAS! What an amazing word! God comes in the form of a little baby! An amazing gift—the best! God gave me another incredible gift the chance to tell people about his SON!

What an amazing adventure our team had in India! As you may remember, India has over a billion people and is the largest Hindu nation in the world. I was raised in Kenya which had a very large India population. Many of my best friends were from India and spoke Gujarati. In fact, my parents worked almost exclusively with Hindus for several years. We saw some of them come to the Lord, but it was a very difficult task.

I am a big believer in servanthood evangelism. As you help others with their real needs, you earn the right to be heard. We become friends, and friends lead others to Jesus. Medical needs are perhaps the most critical. When you're facing a life or death situation, you become more sensitive to what happens after you die. Our team saw the Lord work in amazing ways these last two weeks.

We started out each day around 6:00 am getting ready for the next clinic. After getting dressed and a quick breakfast, we gathered on our small buses and left Tirunveli (a city of over 600,000) to the rural villages. We picked up our translators and staff from the hospital on the way to the bush.

Most days we travelled at least an hour by bus to these remote villages. Most had a town center with little shops and a Hindu temple. The country is quite dirty with a lot of trash littering the ground. It was also fly season and swarms of flies buzzed around our heads constantly. Fortunately, the monsoon season started as we got there so the skies were mostly overcast. We had some rain every day. Sometimes the streets would flood! But it was much cooler than we had expected. What a blessing that was!

Every morning as we arrived at the church or home where we'd do the clinic, we'd unpack two suitcases. One held our pharmacy. We gave most people a year's supply of whatever medicine they needed! We set up our triage station where we'd take blood pressure, temperature and blood sugar readings. The doctors would be in a separate room giving treatment. Then we had counselors where we'd share the Gospel and pray with the sick.

I personally led over 60 Hindus to Jesus on this trip! Our team saw over 1,700 patients and well over 700 prayed to receive Christ! In one village we actually saw over 40 Muslims also accept Jesus as their personal savior! This was truly and act of God and shows the power of prayer! I can think of no better Christmas gift than leading so many people to Jesus. THANK YOU for continuing to support our ministry so generously!
