Hello, my friends!

I love it when the teams are in town! These awesome young people fill the air with excitement and enthusiasm. It's a blast to be around them! Last week we hosted over 160 young people from Texas, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas! These gifted students served in fifteen apartment complexes around Chamblee, Doraville and Atlanta. It's amazing to see these kids share their faith at the missions. It's such a blessing to watch the mission kids riveted on teams. Sometimes they tell a Bible story. Other times they present a drama. This is particularly effective because the parents watching don't speak English.

Another tool the teams use is called the "Evangecube." It's about the size of a Rubik's Cube but it folds out in different directions to reveal stories from the Bible. When I arrived at Wynchase apartments I noticed a group of kids circled under a large oak tree.

"Hey, Mr. Tim!" One of the team members called me over. "Check this out!"

I walked over to the group. "How y'all doing?" I asked.

"Maria wants to show you something," the enthusiastic Texan said.

"Hello, Maria. I'm Mr. Tim. What do you have there?" I pointed to the colorful cube.

"It's the story of Jesus!" Maria said with a smile. "Look at this."

She began to tell the me story. "God lives in Heaven, here." She pointed to a cloud with a throne on it. "But people do bad things. That's called sin. It keeps us away from God."

I nodded and smiled as she told me the Gospel story. She flipped open the cube to reveal the next part of the story. It showed the Earth in the center.

"God is love, but he doesn't like sin. That's a problem for us, because we do bad things." She turned the cube around to reveal Jesus in the middle. "God solved that problem by sending his son Jesus!"

I nodded and said, "Amen!" She looked at me and smiled. She pointed to three crosses.

"Jesus had to die to take away our sin. Three days later he rose again!" She opened up the cube to show Jesus with his arms outstretched to receive us. "It takes faith to receive Jesus into our hearts." The next scene showed a boy praying to Jesus. "You have to pray to ask Jesus to save you."

"Did you ask Jesus into your heart today, Maria?"

"Yes, I did Mr. Tim!"

"That's great sister!" I gave her a hug and walked over to the team member. "That's why we're here! You did a great job!"

Over twenty kids accepted Christ as their personal Savior last week. THANK YOU for your prayers and support. You've made it possible for Whirlwind Missions to share the Gospel with thousands of kids over the last decade. YOU made a difference in Maria's eternity!
